

CROSSROADS FLEX

Opened in August 2016, Crossroads FLEX is a digital, blended learning school serving students in grades 9-12. Crossroads FLEX serves students whose outside interests and activities, known at Crossroads FLEX as pursuits, require considerable amounts of time during regular school hours. This can include students who are highly competitive and/or active in the arts, sports, or have other obligations such as extensive work schedules (30+ hours a week) or family commitments. Crossroads FLEX is designed to allow students to meet those obligations while meeting all requirements for high school graduation, as well as college and career readiness.

Partnering with North Carolina Virtual Public Schools (NCVPS) blended learning is using both online and in-person learning experiences when teaching students. Students work independently on online lessons, projects, and assignments at home and at Crossroads FLEX. Students meet with teachers to review their learning progress, discuss their work, ask questions, and receive assistance with difficult concepts while meeting a required amount of seat time.

A Crossroads FLEX student MUST have the following traits:

- Be self-motivated
- Be self-directed
- Be independent
- Be organized
- Possess strong communication skills
- Be able to manage his/her time well
- Be digitally literate
- Be able to complete rigorous content with minimal adult supervision

The vision of Crossroads FLEX is to guide and graduate students whose individual pursuits empower them to emblazon change upon the world.
